Y.M.C.A. Boys Entertain with Carnival Stunts

College Gymnasium is Scene of Plenty of Action When Men Connected with College Meet for Frolic.

The College Gymnasium was the scene of a number of athletic contests and stunts Monday night, September 23, when the Y. M. C. A. of the College held its Men's Indoor Athletic Carnival. Shortly after 7:30, some sixty men present were divided into two teams, the Hot-Shots and the Cubs. The captain of the former team was Lawrence Wray, and J. Porterfield captained the Cubs. In the various contests, including dodge ball, two ball races, a leap-frog race, a water race and four basketball games, Captain Wray led his Hot-Shots to an 88 to 78 victory over the Cubs. The contests, which were announced by Mr. LaMar, were participated in with much enthusiasm by the students, if organized yells, cheers and stamping of feet can be taken as any evidence of enthusiasm.

After the feats of strength and speed in the gymnasium were over, the men went swimming in the College pool to cool off after the conflict. The guests then went back to the playing floor upstairs, where approximately a bushel of doughnuts, were devoured and several gallons of punch were served.

The carnival was made possible by the cooperation of a number of people. The management of the gymnasium granted the use of the building for the occasion. Miss Gwin and the boys at Residence Hall made the punch. Mr. Lamkin furnished the grapes that were used in its making. Various faculty members helped by their presence, their suggestions, and in the active part they took in the preparations.

The following Y. M. C. A. committees worked out plans for the carnival: Refreshments, Thomas Lawrence, Wilbur Pettigrew, and Clarence Worley; program, Lawrence Wray, Erman Barrett, Lawrence Shaffer, and Mr. LaMar.

Men who signed the register at the gymnasium Monday night are:

Levis Wallace, Frank Campbell, Fred Larson, Walter Little, Arthur Jackson, Curtis Shorman, Even Agenstein, Floyd Hall, T. Woolsey, Dale Billingsley, Dan Blood, Leonard Riley, Hadley Lanning, Owen Thompson, Keith Saville, Forrest Wells, Ben Thompson, Glenn Duncan, Wilbur Pettigrew, J. Porterfield, Harvey Hollar, O. Myking Mohus, Robert Lawrence, A. J. Cauffield, Bert Cooper, William Alsop, E. A. Davis, H. P. Iba, H. B. Iba, Earl Barnes, Clyde Farquhar, Ted Hodgkinson, Riley Davison, Orville Kelim, Russel Noblet, Wilson Dowden, Clarence Worley, Stanley Gex, Kenneth Leeson, Eugene Wells, Eugene Minnick, Rogers Booth, Burl Zimmerman, L. P. Wray, Lawrence Shaffer, Thomas R. Lawrence, Lowell Bowen, Mr. Dieterich, Mr. Whiffen, Mr. Newcomb, Mr. Wilson, and Uel W. Lamkin.

Those present were very sorry for an accident which happened at the carnival. During one of the contests Mr. Newcomb, instructor in commerce and accounting at the College, was unable to keep from crashing into the brick wall at the south end of the gymnasium, and received a severe cut on his head.

Miss Elizabeth Jack Is New Instructor

The new instructor in physical education for women at S. T. C. is Miss Elizabeth N. Jack. Miss Jack, who attended high school in Phoenix, Arizona, and Decatur, Illinois and the University of Colorado at Boulder, has her B. A. degree from Pomona College, Claremont, California.

Miss Jack finished her M. A. degree in physical education at Columbia University, New York, last spring, and during the last summer has had charge of a large swimming pool in New York City. She comes to the College with the highest recommendations. Miss Nita Sheffield, head of the Women's Athletic Department of Columbia University, said that she would have liked very much to have had Miss Jack with her on the Staff of that University.

Miss Jack has had very successful experience teaching and coaching in high school and college, and comes to the College highly recommended, not only as a teacher, but as an executive in her field. She also has an excellent record as a leader in outdoor sports for girls. Miss Jack is a member of Kappa Delta Phi. She is staying at 537 West Second Street.

College Instructors Work in Men's Forum

O. Myking Mohus of the Social Science Department led the discussion on "War and Peace" at the Men's Monday Forum. One of the speakers brought out the fact that wars will cease when people look upon killing in war time in the same light that they look upon murder in times of peace.

The following officers were elected: The Rev. Robert Burns, treasurer; Dr. H. G. Dildine, Mr. Burns, and O. Myking Mohus, program committee; W. T. Garrett, Herbert R. Dieterich, and Geo. H. Colbert, membership committee.

College Presidents Meet This Week

The presidents of the five State Teachers Colleges of Missouri were present at a special assembly held at the College Auditorium Thursday morning, September 26, at nine o'clock. Mr. Lamkin introduced each of the presidents from the four sister colleges. Short talks were given by each and greetings were brought to our student body from the respective colleges.

The names of the presidents, in the order of their introduction, are: Joseph A. Serena, Cape Girardeau; Roy Ellis, Springfield; Eugene Fair, Kirksville; E. L. Hendricks, Warrensburg; and Uel W. Lamkin, Maryville.

Of these men, President E. L. Hendricks of Warrensburg State Teachers College has served longest as president of a Missouri Teachers. President Roy Ellis of Springfield is youngest in point of service.

At the close of the special assembly, which lasted about thirty minutes, the college presidents went into an all-day meeting in President Lamkin's office, where they were to discuss a number of the problems that are common to the five colleges. Although this is the regular annual meeting of these educators, the session is of special importance due to the fact that the work of the State Survey Commission is to be a principal subject of the meeting. Members of this commission, which is studying the condition and needs of the state institutions, have been at work inspecting the College during the last two weeks.

A short pep meeting led by Kenneth Greeson, George Adams, and Marion Guilleams, was held in front of the library after the Thursday assembly. A great deal of pep and interest was shown in the coming conference football games, and the game with the Haskell Indians, Saturday afternoon.

The Dramatics Club Holds First Meeting

Twenty-eight students were present at the first meeting of the Dramatics Club, held at eleven o'clock Thursday morning, September 19 in Social Hall. Of this number, only five were men. Mr. Miller, sponsor of the Club, gave a talk, announcing the purpose and character of the organization, and something of the plans of the group for the year. Old members of the club gave short talks stating what the Dramatics Club had meant to them. In these talks, the importance of every person, from stage hand to the leading star of the cast, was stressed.

In the business session of the meeting, a council was formed of all members who have had three quarters of Dramatics Club experience at the College. This council met early this week to carry on further business of the club. Members of the council are Betty Sealeman, Cleola Dawson, Carl Fisher, Clinton Morris, and Ruth Florea.

Freshman Girls Are Initiated at Dorm

Freshman Initiation at the Dormitory was announced by House President, Isabel McDaniels, as the girls went down to dinner, Monday evening. In a short time, each Freshman girl had an appointment with some upperclass girl for the recreation hour. What for? In general, clean rooms, do laundry, and various other bits of manual labor.

Miss Leola Miller, who was a student in the College last year, has enrolled in the School of Journalism at the University of Missouri. Miss Miller, who is a Junior in the University, has been made a pledge of the Gamma Phi Beta Sorority.

Alumni Association Dinner Will be Held

The programs are being printed and the plans are being made for the Northwest Missouri District Teachers Association meeting which will be held at the College, October 24 and 25. Mr. Bert Cooper of the College, secretary of the Association, is getting the program arranged.

An Alumni Association dinner will be held at the College during the N. W. Missouri District Teachers Association meeting. The dinner will be held at 6:00 o'clock Thursday evening, October 24. All alumni, former students, College instructors and invited guests are invited to attend.

Miss Hettie M. Anthony, head of the Home Economics Department of the College, will have charge of the dinner. The price will be 75 cents for each plate. Those who plan to attend should reserve plates by sending a check for the number desired, to Stephen G. LaMar (Treasurer) at the College, at Maryville, just as soon as possible. Arrangements can thus be made to accommodate all who care to attend.

Dad's Day Will Be Held October 18

"Dad's Day" will be celebrated at the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College this year on Friday, October 18th. The program for the day is in charge of the committee on Public Relations which was appointed by President Lamkin and consists of the following faculty members: Mr. Melus, chairman, Miss Anthony, Miss Fisher, Mr. Newcomb, Dr. Seikel, Miss Schultze and Miss Jack.

This committee met Wednesday afternoon and formulated the following plans for Dad's Day: Registration of Dads in Social Hall at ten o'clock in the morning. The forenoon will be spent in sight-seeing around the campus. At noon a banquet will be held at Residence Hall. In the afternoon the main feature is the football game between the College and Springfield.

Mr. Melus appointed the following sub-committees: Miss Schultze and Miss Jack, Registration; Dr. Seikel and Mr. Newcomb, Reception Committee; Miss Anthony, Banquet; Miss Fisher, posters and decorations.

The Student Council, the Y. M. C. A., and the Y. W. C. A. will assist the above sub-committees in working out the details for Dad's Day.

Virginia and Mary Elizabeth Meyer spent the week-end with their parents at Maitland.

Patricia Arnold went to her home in Jamesport for the week-end.

Tea Is Sponsored by Primary Council

A meeting of the Primary Council was held Monday evening, September 23, at 4:20 o'clock. At this meeting, plans were made for a tea, which was given Thursday afternoon, September 26. The tea was held from 3:20 until 5:00 p. m. in the new kindergarten room. Those persons interested in primary work were the guests of the Council.

A committee, consisting of Lorraine Harris, chairman, Irene Smith, and Hazel Carr were in charge.

Northwest Missouri H. S. Orchestra

As in the last several years, the Northwest Missouri High School orchestra is again to be a feature of the annual meeting of the District Teachers Association, which will be held at the College, October 24 to 26. The orchestra will be composed of approximately seventy of the best high school musicians in the district. The members of the orchestra are to be chosen from orchestras having at least sixteen pieces, and as in the past, will be directed by Mr. Hickernell of the College Conservatory.

The organization will present a program Friday evening the twenty-fifth, and Saturday morning the twenty-sixth of October. Judging from the approval with which the Northwest Missouri High School Orchestra has met during its previous appearances at the College, it should furnish one of the most enjoyable parts of this year's program.

College Paper Is Sent to 22 States

Most people probably think of the Northwest Missourian as a publication that is circulated merely among students of the College. But besides being sent to the students, the people of Maryville, to the various towns and high schools throughout the district, and to a number of newspaper offices in the state, the College weekly is at present sent to twenty-two states from California to Florida, and to one island possession of the United States.

The states and the territory to which the Northwest Missourian is sent are: Minnesota, Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Oklahoma, New York, Idaho, California, Florida, Washington, North Carolina, New Mexico, Wisconsin, Ohio, Tennessee, Oahu, Hawaii, Kentucky, Arkansas, Arizona, and Montana.

A large part of the circulation of the paper in these states is made up of members of the Alumni Association. Of the states named, Iowa, Michigan, Kansas and Arkansas probably receive the largest number of copies of the paper which are sent out of the state.

Teacher Praises the College Paper

The Editor of the Northwest Missourian received a letter September 25, from Euphemia Giles, a former S. T. C. student who is teaching at Trenton. Miss Giles' address is 909 Avalon Avenue, Trenton, Missouri. The letter, in part, is as follows:

Dear Sir:
The Northwest Missourian means so much to me. It is a very much welcomed friend at my door each week. I look forward to its arrival, and when it does arrive, everything is dropped or forgotten until I have read and re-read it. I am teaching in the Norton Building at Trenton and have fifty-one pupils in the second grade, all coming all day. Although I am deeply interested in my work here I am looking forward to the Teachers' Meeting and counting the weeks and days until I shall get to be at S. T. C. again. I am also looking forward to next summer's work at the College.

Sincerely yours,
Euphemia Giles.

Mary Kautz, B. S., summer, 1929, who is teaching at Oregon, visited in Maryville Sunday, September 22.

Eleanor Montgomery spent the week-end at Trenton with Willetta Todd. She returned Monday evening.

Mrs. Homer Williams visited her sister, Edna Kate Mackey, last week-end.

Geography Class Takes Field Trip

Mr. Cauffield took his class in Geography 101a on a field trip, Tuesday afternoon, September 24. The class saw rock specimens on the grounds of the Post Office, the St. Francis Hospital, the Cemetery, the Public Library, and of several private residences.

Those students who took the trip were: Pauline Walker, Irene Smith, Hazel Carr, Grace Morris, Merle Shamberger, Dorothy Cox, Elizabeth Shamberger, Mary Ellen Dildine, Viola Brandt, Bernadine Yaden, Dorothy Smith, Natalie Koefe, Kathryn Lewis, Mrs. L. S. Doughty, Elizabeth Greeson, Rebekah Botkin, Raymond Moore, Harvey Hollar, and Mr. Cauffield, instructor.

Club Members Will Sign Constitution

The newly-organized Law Club held its second meeting, Wednesday night, September 25, in Room 226. The meeting, according to one of the student's present, was very interesting and full of enthusiasm. In the opinion of the members, the club promises to be one of the liveliest organizations on the campus.

The meeting of twelve members was called to order at 7:00 p. m. by Clinton Morris, the chairman. The hour was devoted to a general discussion of plans for the permanent organization of the club. Ideas were expressed on keeping high standards for the club. The chairman appointed a committee of three members: T. R. Hooper, Wilbur Hoekin, and Orville Kolim to prepare a constitution for the club organization, to be adopted at the next meeting. T. R. Hooper and Wilbur Pettigrew were retained on the program committee.

The date of the next meeting is Wednesday night, October 2, at 7:00 o'clock in Room 26. The club constitution will be adopted at this meeting and only those present to sign it will be charter members of the organization. The club has many things planned for its activities. Among them is a plan for a mock trial, to be held soon, and a Law banquet which is planned for next spring.

The members of the club wish to express their indebtedness to Mr. Mounce, sponsor of the group, for his suggestions as to organization.

Miss Hawkins Is New English Supervisor

Miss Ulista Hawkins, one of the two new instructors in the English Department, is filling the position of supervision of English practice teachers, which position was formerly held by Miss Dykes, who is now acting head of the English department during the absence of Miss Painter.

Miss Hawkins is especially prepared for this work. She has an A. B. degree from the University of Kansas, an M. A. degree from Peabody College of Nashville, Tennessee, and has studied at the Universities of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Since receiving her A. B. Degree, Miss Hawkins has been employed as a teacher of English in high schools in Kansas and Missouri. For seven years, she was English instructor in the high school at Carthage, Missouri. Previous to holding this position, Miss Hawkins was a teacher of English and history at Oswego, Kansas.

The new English supervisor has acted as advisor of various young people's groups in addition to her teaching work. She is a member of the American Association of University Women.

Besides supervising the practice teachers of English in the College High School, she is teaching college classes in English 11a, English 10, and English 140.

On the evening of Monday, September 23, Miss Dow and Miss DeLuce entertained guests at the Country Club with a steak fry. A fire was built in the Dutch Oven, and each person was provided with a fork. After the "fry" stories were told around the fire, the guests were Miss Gwin, Miss Wilfry, Miss Taylor, Miss Dykes, Miss Smith, and Miss James.

Dorothy Winger was at her home in Skidmore over the week-end.

Students Hear Mr. C. A. Kitch At Assembly

A number of events of interest and importance to the whole student body made the second assembly of the quarter what is likely to be one of the most outstanding of the quarter. COLLEGE OATH
"We will never bring disgrace to this college by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the college. We will obey the laws of the college and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this college to those who come after us, greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

PEACE GARDENS

An idea was brought forward by the gardeners of North America, at their recent meeting in Toronto, Canada, that an international peace garden of about 400 acres be established between America and Canada, half of the area being in Canada and half in the United States. The idea is to make the garden a perpetual memorial to the peaceful relations between the two countries—a gorgeous, blooming, beautiful memorial.

It was also suggested that funds for its upkeep be given by the pupils in the schools of the two nations. Someone has suggested that such a memorial be established to the friendship of Mexico and the United States would be another fine step in international good will.

OXFORD TEAM COMING

On the evening of November 25, in the College auditorium, representatives of our College will meet in public debate an English debate team from Oxford University, England. This debate will be the most outstanding forensic event ever held on this campus.

More complete information concerning this and the other unusual features of this year's debate program will be given out from time to time. Watch the Northwest Missourian! At present the Department of Speech wishes to call your special attention to the following important announcement:

All students who wish to work for a place on one of the several debate teams, which will represent Northwest Missouri State Teachers College in debate this season, are requested to meet in Social Hall at 4:20 on Wednesday afternoons.

Whether you are man or woman, freshman or senior, an inexperienced or an experienced debater, if you are interested in a part in the Oxford, or other debates of the season, you should be present at the Wednesday afternoon meetings.

TEN MODERN COMMANDMENTS FOR PARENTS

Actual facts, determined by investigation of 10,000 homes as judged by normal children in Massachusetts' schools, and the homes of several hundred youthful criminals as revealed by case histories available to the state department of correction, have prompted the Massachusetts advisory council on crime prevention to issue the following modern ten commandments for parents to follow in bringing up their children.

"1—Give your child the love that comes from an understanding heart; be a good friend, a fellow-adventurer in life.

"2—Give your child a home that offers a ready welcome to his friends; make your home the center of his social being.

"3—Give your child a place in the home to call his 'own,' a corner, a room, an attic, a part of the basement if it is clean, ventilated, warm and dry.

"4—Give your child chores to do and see that he does them because he wants to do them; enlist his active co-operative interest in the management of the home.

"5—Give your child equipment with which to play; toys, pets, tools and materials with which to make things, instruments to play, goods to sew, food to cook.

"6—Give your child the opportunity to use his own judgment to encourage initiative; recognize and praise his feeblest attempts, don't harp forever on his shortcomings. Respect the personality of your child.

"7—Give your child a place to read, get good books from your public library and have wholesome magazines available.

"8—Give your child a physical body, see that he has thorough physical examinations; watch teeth, eyes, hearing and correct faults immediately.

"9—Give your child a healthy mental and emotional life; educate him to his fullest capacity, but not beyond; correct bad habits early, consult habit clinics.

"10—Give your child a parent he may emulate and in so doing become a citizen worthy of the name he bears, be an example."

presidents of the five Missouri State Teachers Colleges will be present.

13. The debate team representing Oxford University, of Oxford, England will debate with the College team here on November 25. A meeting of all students interested in debate is called for Wednesday evening at 4:20 in Social Hall.

In his talk, following the announcements, Mr. Kitch stressed the fact that service is the greatest means of success. Work, Mr. Kitch said, is the father of success, ambition is the mother of success, and common sense the oldest son. The speaker illustrated these points with anecdotes which evoked hearty laughter from the audience.

In the course of his speech, the educator stated the following things that were expected of a man who applies for a position:

1. Wanted: A man who can find things to be done without the help of a manager and three assistants.

2. A man who gets to work on time in the morning and does not imperil the lives of others in an attempt to be the first to quit work at night.

3. A man who is neat in appearance and does not sulk for an hour's overtime in emergencies.

4. A man who listens carefully when he is spoken to and asks only enough questions to insure the accurate carrying out of instructions.

5. A man who moves quickly and makes as little noise as possible about it.

6. A man who looks you straight in the eye and tells the truth every time.

7. A man who does not pity himself for having to work.

8. A man who is cheerful, courteous to everyone, and determined to "make good."

9. A man who, when he does not know, says, "I don't know," and when he is asked to do anything says, "I'll try."

Education, Mr. Kitch continued, must be obtained through one's own individual effort. He then concluded his speech by saying that, as every speaker should leave some piece of advice with his audience, he wished to state his advice in the form of a quotation from Hamlet. The quotation follows:

"There, my blessings with thee! And these few precepts in thy memory."

Look thou character. Give thy thoughts no tongue, Nor any unproportion'd thought his act.

Be thou familiar, but by no means vulgar; The friends thou hast, and their adoption tried, Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel;

But do not dull thy palm with entertainment. Of each new-hatch'd, unfledg'd comrade, Beware.

Of entrance to a quarrel, but, being in, Bear't that th' opposed may beware of thee.

Give every man thine ear, but few thy voice; Take each man's censures, but reserve thy judgment.

Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy, But not express'd in fancy; rich, not gaudy;

For the apparel oft proclaims the man, And they in France of the best rank and station

Are most select and generous, chief in that.

Neither a borrower, nor a lender be; For loan oft loses both itself and friend,

And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry.

This above all: to thine own self be true, And it must follow, as the night the day,

Thou canst not then be false to any man. Farewell; my blessing season this in thee!

After the talk by Mr. Kitch, a meeting of the student body, for the purpose of nominating its principal officers, was held. At this meeting Gordon Lee Trotter was unanimously nominated president of the Student Association. The nomination speech was made by Wilbur Stalcup. Glenn Duncan placed the name of Violetta Hunter in the nomination for vice-president of the student body, and Lawrence Wray nominated Karol Oliphant. After the results of the primary ballot had been counted, the results were found to be as follows:

For president: Gordon Trotter—458.

For vice-president: Trotter Hunter—365, Karol Oliphant—80.

At the end of the assembly, a short pep meeting was held. A great deal of enthusiasm was worked up by a short talk by Henry Iba, one of the Bearcat coaches. The yells were led by Kenneth Gresson, "Que" Williams, and George Adams.

Ralph Hotchkiss, a former student of the College, is a senior in the school of business administration, at Grinnell College in Iowa.

tely necessary to a successful debate squad; thoroughness and consistent loyalty. In order to secure these requisites, a large squad, an exhaustive search for material, and an opportunity for trial debates is necessary, Mr. Miller added.

The five questions, which are being considered as suitable for the Oxford Debate are as follows:

Resolved: 1. That the Jury System is Unnecessary for the Administration of Justice. (Oxford takes the affirmative)

2. That the Talking Film will Strike a Deadly Blow at Western Culture. (Oxford takes the affirmative).

3. That this is the Best of all Possible Worlds. (Oxford, two members of the team take the negative; one member is impartial).

4. That the Installment Plan of Buying is a Danger to American Prosperity. (Oxford takes the affirmative.)

5. That America (the United States) cannot expect to have her debts paid until her Tariff Barriers are Substantially reduced. (Oxford, One member of the team takes the affirmative; two members are impartial).

Of these questions, the members of the squad who were present seemed to favor the last two as the most interesting and the most debatable. Definite announcement as to which question will be used in the debate will be made on the bulletin board in a short time.

Of the students present, three won keys for inter-collegiate debate last year. They were Martha Herriage, Cleola Dawson, and Glenn Duncan. Wiley Poleson, another key debater, who is in school this quarter, was not present at the meeting. Two other members of last year's squad, Frank Tebow and Carl Massie, are not in school this year.

The next meeting of the debate squad will be held Wednesday, October 2. Those present at the first meeting were: Burl Zimmerman, Orville Kelim, Marvin Shamberger, Owen Thompson, J. M. Porterfield, Dean L. Rybolt, Lester Hall, Mildred Medsker, Arrie Ann Freeland, Wilbur Pettigrew, Clinton O. Morris, Clarence Worley, Glenn Duncan, Cleola Dawson, Martha Herriage, Mrs. Kabla Ford, Cleo King, and Wilbur Heekin.

School Items

President Lamkin recently received one of the school pamphlets which are issued weekly by Mr. G. E. Dille, superintendent of schools at Chillicothe, Mo. The following items, pertaining mostly to the Chillicothe school system and which may be of interest to other schools are taken from the pamphlet which is headed "Administrative Topics."

Every teacher "talks school" often or occasionally with members of her family or friends. If she impresses others as being intelligent, professionally minded, honest, and hard-working, they receive at once a favorable impression of the entire system.

Are you striving to do a better job of teaching this year than you did last year? If not, why?

Central School is organized on the semi-planet system this year in the 5th and 6th grades. All teachers teach the five fundamental subjects, English, reading, writing, spelling and arithmetic to their own groups during the morning session. In the afternoon the program is departmentalized for the special subjects and is scheduled as follows: History, Miss Abshire; Geography, Miss Phillips; Fine and Industrial Arts, Miss Roach; Health Education, Miss Gusewalle; Music, Miss James; Elementary Science, Miss Perrine.

Do you always look for the good in every person? "Tongues in trees, books in the running brooks, sermons in stones, and good in everything."—Shakespeare.

Tuition or intuition? Our system profits some $5000 per year from the former. The latter is immeasurable. Teachers work long and hard in collecting the materials out of which intuitions are made. Knowledge is the soil and intuitions are the flowers which grow up out of it.

Everyone needs someone to believe in him and have faith in the integrity and purity of his motives if he would attain to his best.

The Missouri State Teachers Association meets Nov. 13-16 in St. Louis.

Several months ago the Board of Education authorized the superintendent to install a new bookkeeping system. As a result, the Accounting Procedure for School Systems by Engelhardt and Von Borgersrode displaced the old system on July 1st, 1929. The new system is more detailed and makes it possible to determine unit costs in every phase of school expenditure.

Each one of our seven public school buildings now has a school library. Previous to this year all elementary school textbooks, supplementary and reference books have been kept in the library at Central School. Books were apportioned to each ward school weekly from that place. Teachers who were through with supplementary books were required to return them in a short time so that other schools might use them. Sometimes on the day that books were to be returned it would be pouring down rain. This, of course, was hard on the books. Now each school has its own books—an improvement which has long been needed.

In the North Central District of the Missouri High School Debating League there are 89 first class high schools. Twenty-three of these belonged to the League last year. It will be one of Mr. Dille's jobs to induce a larger number to belong this year.

Mr. Uhlig went to St. Joseph September 17 to attend a meeting of superintendents and principals. The meeting was under the direction of Charles Myers, State High School Supervisor. The program was as follows: Mr. Vogelgesang, superintendent of schools, Grayson, Mo.; "Sanitation of the School Plant"; Mr. Sloan, instructor of commercial studies, Faucett, Mo.; "School Finance"; Mr. Crosswhite, superintendent of schools, Cameron, Mo.; "Supervision"; Mr. Barbee, superintendent of schools, St. Joseph, Mo.; "Professional Teachers' Meetings"; Mr. Allison, superintendent of schools, Plattburg, Mo.; "Directed Study"; Mr. Daffron, principal of Longfellow school, St. Joseph, Mo.; "Objective or New Type Tests." These meetings which are for the purpose of rendering assistance in the organization, supervision, and administration of schools we feel are well worth while.

Our first monthly report shows 2,425 total days attendance and 121 average daily attendance.

Sorority Gives Formal House Party Sept. 18

Twenty-six Rushes are Entertained at the Sorority House. Mrs. Ray Hull Danced a "Vanity" Number.

Here's an invite a la maniere set. To a party you'll like, on that we'll bet; It's a boudoir affair—very informal, We'll have a good time—just act normal. Alpha Sig House, Wednesday, at eight. We hope you'll be there—shall we call it a date?

Twenty-six rushes received this little rhyme written on a folder designed as a maniere set inviting them to attend the formal rush party of the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, Wednesday night, September 18, at the sorority house, 522 North Market. These sets were of imitation red leather and were stamped with a silver seal bearing the Alpha Sigma Alpha crest. The name of the invited guests were printed in white on the outside, red and white being the sorority colors. When the rushes arrived they found the ten rooms of the sorority house converted into softly lighted boudoirs with the hostesses attired in silk pajamas and lounging robes. Alluring signs telling the merits of various powders and perfumes and creams were set up about the rooms. Futuristic mirrors, French dolls, boudoir pillows, silk scarfs and shaded lamps, added atmosphere. The hostesses were fortunate in securing the services of Mademoiselle Karol Oliphant, noted cosmetician, who blended the powders to suit the complexions of the various guests. At the powder table they not only received small boxes of powder and face creams but also vanity mirrors which were in reality the programs of the dance.

There were several novelty features of the evening, first of which was the perfume dance. During the dance the guests were led to the perfume table and each was given a bottle of perfume. A French doll was portrayed by Mrs. Ray Hull who charmingly danced a "Vanity" number. Mrs. Hull wore a bouffant white tulle dress and carried a large red mirror. Immediately following, fancy maids passed trays containing boudoir dolls wearing imitation Alpha Sigma pins. During the interval the sorority girls gathered around the piano and sang "She's an Alpha Sig." Sorority songs were also used as encores to the various dance numbers during which the members sang. At intermission an appropriate number, "Powder, Rouge and Lipstick," by Edna St. Vincent Millay was ready by Miss Betty Sealeman. The last feature was a boudoir pillow dance. Each rusher drew a number and was instructed to find a pillow with the same number. This was given as the principal favor of the evening.

Refreshments were carried out in red and white, the sorority colors. Boudoir candle gumdrops, coconut cake powder-puffs and raspberry ice were served. Music was furnished at the piano by Miss Nellie Dawson.

The guests included: Misses Vivian Kimball, Maude Ella LaMar, Margaret E. Sutton, Vashli Conn, Katherine Gray, Clara May Shartzler, Lorraine I. Harris, Dorothy Stockton, Alberta Kunkel, Virginia Meyers, Ada Chamberlain, Cletha Nelson, Lois McCrary, Mary Margaret James, Lucille Hall, Eleanor Montgomery, Louise Hobbitt, Maxine Neely, Esther McMurtry, Winifred Todd, Neely Hickernell, Minnie Rae Evans, Marian Louise Gann, Ruth E. Cook, Annamae Adams, Mary W. Kirk, Ruth Goss. Mrs. Clun Price, Mrs. U. G. Whiffen, Mrs. R. C. Person and Mrs. Charles Haggard, patronesses; Miss Nell Martindale, sorority advisor; Mrs. O. J. Wilhoite, house mother; Miss Mary Elizabeth Jones, Mrs. Ray Hull, Misses Ruth Harding and Mildred Sitz, alumnae and Misses Martha Wyman, Evelyn Evans, Martha Pfeiffer, Gertrude Wray, Irene Smith, Karol Oliphant, Isabel McDaniel, Juanita Marsh, Betty Sealeman and Imogene Wolff, active members. —Forum.

Carl L. Fisher Heads Christian Society Meeting

"Where Shall We Stand on War?" was the Subject Discussed Sunday Evening, September 22nd.

"Where Shall We Stand on War?" was the subject for discussion at the College Christian Endeavor Society at the Christian Church on Sunday evening, September 22. Carl Leroy Fisher, president of the Society, was the leader. Short talks were given by Alice Nelson and William Alsop.

In his discussion of the subject, Mr. Fisher told of the terrible destructiveness of modern implements of war and pointed out that another great war would be disastrous to mankind. Since the armistice, the leader declared, the speed of guns has been doubled, the range of tractors trebled, and the destructiveness of airplane bombs increased tenfold. Our army fliers, he said, can be equipped today with bombs weighing 4,000 pounds and carrying one ton of explosives. Airplane machine-guns have been speeded up from four hundred rounds per minute to one thousand five hundred rounds per minute, Mr. Fisher stated.

In continuing the discussion, the leader made the following statements about modern warfare: The flying machine was not one-fourth as efficient at the time of the armistice as it is today. Three airplanes of a type now in existence, can carry for a thousand miles and then drop explosives weighing more than the Germans succeeded in dropping on London during the entire period of the war—seven tons, in fact. Planes now fly at four miles a minute. They rise to heights of 30,000 feet and can go even higher when occasion demands.

Gases now exist, Mr. Fisher went on to say, that are more than 1,000 times as powerful as anything used in the late war. There is one gas so powerful that the person inhaling it would be killed instantly. But preparation for war does not prevent war. The leader quoted General Pershing as saying in 1920, "The world does not seem to learn from experience. It would appear that the lessons of the last six years should be enough to convince everybody of the danger of nations striding us and down the earth armed to the teeth. But no one nation can reduce armaments unless all do. Unless some such move be made, we may well ask ourselves whether civilization does not really reach a point where it begins to destroy itself and whether we are thus doomed to go headlong down through destructive war and darkness to barbarism."

In her talk, Miss Nelson said that if we want peace, we must prepare for peace. In this connection she quoted President Coolidge who said, "In spite of all arguments in favor of great military forces, no nation ever had an army large enough to guarantee it against attack in times of peace or to assure its victory in time of war. No nation ever will."

Our patriotism needs to be converted, Miss Nelson declared. Instead of the childish and primitive desire to "lick the world," it should aim at making our country worthy of honor by its contributions to mankind. The speaker quoted Theodore Roosevelt as saying, "Nations should act toward one another as an honorable man acts toward an honorable man." Miss Nelson predicted that some day we shall see a United States of the World patterned after the United States of America and bound together by a common purpose and common convictions.

William Alsop made a plea for an international mind and stated that the World Court and the League of Nations will substitute mutual understanding and good will for hate and fear and suspicion. He declared that the conviction is growing that whatever may have been true about war in times past, modern war is futile to achieve any good or Christian thing.

The Stroller

By 1111

The Stroller until this week was in favor of disarmament but he has changed his mind, now that it's reported the INDIANS are coming. He has searched all week trying to find a tomahawk so that he could help the Bearcats return evil for evil, but it seems they've all been stored in museums in Washington, D. C. Surely if the Indians are coming back, it's high time the government was getting some internal protection and stopping its fooling around with Naval Disarmament and the like. Some one said in Mr. Cook's history class the other day that if America was destroyed, it would be from within. So the Stroller has got that figured out that student must have had in mind that the Indians were headed this way for Saturday.

Now the Stroller is wondering just how they're going to keep all those freshmen out there at the game Saturday, when those Indians start whooping and howling? Worley said that he had always wanted to see Hiawatha, ever since he was in the third grade. Said that he wanted him to catch one of those little flitting white fire creatures for him for his insect mount.

The Stroller is worried about another thing, since Coach Iba made a poppy speech in assembly the other day. He's afraid the drug stores will sell cokes and the theatres of the city are going to bring suit vs. the College for non-support or patronization. Some of the girls have excused themselves by admitting that while they may have been studying, or downtown in the afternoons, still, in spirit they were always with certain ones of the Bearcats out there practicing on the gridiron.

The Stroller wonders why they did not announce the grand prize for the team winning first place in the Y. M. C. A. Carnival Monday night at the Gym???

What's in those big boxes in the east end of the Administration building? They say curiosity killed a cat and just recently a Gov't officer got himself in some trouble, by examining tourists things too closely, or the Stroller would find out what is in those boxes.

And now Smitty wants the Student Directory to hurry up and get out. He thinks it would save him some time on Sunday nights. The Stroller has heard that some of the English teachers insist on calling Violette H. Miss Trotter. Now that the football games are coming on Saturday Mr. Garrett wants to resign his extension classes. President and Mrs. Lamkin certainly must have a huge supply of grape juice to be able to produce it in such quantities as they did for the Y. M. Carnival. The Stroller wonders?

Mr. Kinnaird isn't training his hens right, in accordance with the hard times which are being showered on our College just now. It seems that he has two hens which parade up and down the rows of student and faculty cars, parked east of the Administration building, looking for an open window in a sedan car. By the way the sedan must have nice plush seats also. When they find the proper car they deposit a nice fresh egg on the plush seat for the owner. Now those eggs should be deposited to the credit of the College.

Mr. Dieterich is also practicing economy. At first he fed his decoy ducks, and whistled for them to come and quack, but now he just whistles and they come and quack for him without the feed. Now that doesn't seem quite fair in these days when every one gets paid for what he does.

The Stroller thinks perhaps the Millenium or the end of the world is approaching and not on horseback either, but at a much more modern rate of speed, by the way everyone is being surveyed all of a sudden. Seems that the United States, New York and the Legislature of Missouri, all have blanks to be filled out. It's even reported that the Freshmen are to be mentalized by survey tests soon. Even some of the Sister College presidents and President Lamkin were discussing in the special assembly, as to which one of the Teachers colleges should be used as an insane asylum first. This just goes to show that the mental strain is pretty great now days, when the presidents of the teachers colleges will admit that an asylum has its strong points over the colleges, since some improvement must be shown to get out of an asylum and this is not always the case with the colleges.

The Stroller just takes it for granted that College presidents will bear watching along with other people, when one of them admitted that he had been out that night in the dark hunting for 71. Several of our students of experience volunteered sympathy. They proved things by the Legislature and Statutes pretty freely and treated Julius Caesar a little roughly. Another of the presidents supposed to be the handsomest and most afraid of the girls according to the testimony of the others, used being pretty freely, when he said to a rabbit: "Go to it you Fool, you don't know where you are going, your address is five miles back there on the crate at the station."

Well, bring your weapons and come to the game Saturday. All you girls who went to the "Pow Wow" should be right in style there.

Marvin Westfall, B. S. 1928, is in medical school at Washington University at St. Louis this year.

The Women's Athletic Association opened its 1929-30 season with a Pow-Wow, Wednesday, September 25. At five-thirty Wednesday evening, eighty girls, dressed for activity, gathered at the gymnasium and went from there to the College Park. That they found apples, salad, beans, wieners, pop, and other good things in abundance was apparent from the satisfied expression on the girls' faces and their readiness for play when they returned to the gymnasium.

The girls were divided into four groups, the members of each of which were given hats made of green and white paper to denote the group to which they belonged. Their names, yells, and captains were chosen. After such names as "Onion Tops," "Greenlanders," "Giants," and "Row Tops" were selected, each group proceeded to support its members in the tournament that followed.

Volley ball, played with red balloons, was the first contest. The sack relay, shot put, twenty-yard dash, and running broad jump were other features of the contests. Each group received points for placing in events, and the championship went to the "Giants" who made a total of forty-two points. Green M's were awarded as trophies to the winners.

After the games, short talks were made by the faculty advisors, Miss Martindale and Miss Jack. Juanita Marsh announced the sports program for the year. It is as follows: hockey, soccer, volley ball, swimming, baseball, tennis, and hiking. Chairmen of the Pow-Wow committees were Mary Lou Appelman and Oleola Dawson, entertainment; Permonio Davis, Jaunita March, refreshment; and Eleanor Montgomery, general chairman. Miss Montgomery is president of the W. A. A.

World Peace Is Subject Taken by Mr. Mehus

International Relations in Regard to Peace Movements Is Discussed by Mr. Mehus at Century Club.

O. Myking Mehus of the Social Science Department of the State Teachers College gave an address before the Civic Department of the Twentieth Century Club at its regular monthly meeting on Thursday evening, September 19th, at the home of Mrs. Hugh Strong. He discussed "International Relations."

Mr. Mehus traced the development of the larger group consciousness from the primitive clan, through the tribe, then the city states of Greece and Italy, the small principalities of some of the European countries, and finally the present nation. The next step in internationalism as exemplified in the League of Nations and the World Court.

The peace movement in Europe and America in modern times was discussed. Mr. Mehus brought out the contributions of the First and Second Hague Conferences, the World Court, the League of Nations, and the Pan American Union. He discussed the value of the Paris Peace Pact and Briand's U. S. of Europe plan in the promotion of universal peace. He emphasized that permanent world peace is to be secured through friendship and mutual understanding and not through fear and suspicions.

Mr. Mehus made a plea for definite reduction of armaments as advocated by President Hoover. He pointed out that at the present time the military naval, and air budget of our country exceeds that of every nation in the world except Great Britain and that our annual expenditures exceed those of France by nearly $500,000,000. They are larger than the combined expenditures of France, Italy, Germany, Turkey, and Russia.

We have more than 600,000 men in service and in training for military and naval service, which is, according to former President Coolidge the largest number in our history in times of peace. Major-General Hines is authority for the statement that we have 45,000 more officers—brigadier-generals, colonels, lieutenant-colonels, majors, captains, and lieutenants—than we had in Europe during the World War. We can put a trained army into the field at short notice one-third larger than the total American Expeditionary Force.

In discussing the cost of our present military program Mr. Mehus showed that our government has spent more than five billion dollars in the past eight years for preparation for war. There is now a proposal before Congress sponsored by the Navy Department calling for the expenditure of one billion dollars in the next five years for new naval construction. All of this at a time when, according to former President Coolidge, "No threatening cloud darkens our sky," and in spite of his declaration that "competitive armaments constitute one of the most dangerous and contributing causes of international suspicion and discord and are calculated eventually to lead to war."

Mr. Mehus called attention to the statement made by President Hoover on September 6th in which he condemned the activities of William B. Shearer who in the guise of a super patriot has been condemning the efforts of our government to secure international agreement for reduction of naval arms while at the same time having received $50,000 on account from ship building concerns whom he is now suing for an additional $250,000 which he claims they owe him for his propaganda work in their behalf. Mr. Mehus pointed out that the activities of the ship building industries has been universally condemned by the press in this country according to the leading article which appeared in the "Literary Digest" for September 21. According to the Literary Digest the Memphis Commercial Appeal states: "The President's accusation adds weight to the already prevalent opinion that wars are brought about by commercial interests that are not unwilling to promote their welfare at the sacrifice of life and treasures. There are so many evidences that international hostility has its foundation in trade and competition that the world is beginning to regard as a tragic and pathetic figure the boy who leaves the plow, seizes the flag, rushes into the fire of the enemy, and lays down his life for his country, that speculators may be made rich and millions be made multimillionaires."

In closing, Mr. Mehus urged the members of the Twentieth Century club to read books like "All is Quiet Along the Western Front" and to help disseminate the truth regarding the causes and results of war.

Bill Posting Firm's High Ideals.

When the campaign to plaster billboards with the pictures of beautiful girls in order to popularize cigarette smoking among women reached Portland, Oregon, it was unnecessary for the City Council to take action. The bill posting firm of Foster and Kleiser voluntarily refused to post such advertising on the boards that it controls along the Pacific Coast.

Education: Its Achievements.
Education multiplies the points of contact with environment; trains man to interpret, to modify, and, in a measure, to control environment; and leads him upward from savagery toward his Maker. Through education we have discarded the strongback method of advancing civilization—the method which reared the pyramids and built the ancient temples. Through education we have lifted the burden from the sweating backs of men. Through education we have raised the standard of living; enlarged the circle of those who can eat white bread till it circumnavigates the globe. Through education we erect our skyscrapers, span rivers, bore through mountains, annihilate distance, reduce the ravages of disease, and distribute more equally the blessings of prosperity. Through education we are bringing nearer a realization of the brotherhood of man and are welding the nations of earth into one great family. Through education our lamp of reason is lighted and set in the candlestick to give light to all the house. No longer is it hidden under the bushel of superstition and fear.
